

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

A WEDDING of interest to many friends and relatives here and elsewhere in Virginia was celebrated at 5 o'clock June 3d, in the country seat of the bride's father, Madison, Montgomery county, when Miss Elva Munford Ellis was given in marriage to the Rev. Adolphe Sylvester Rachal, the Rev. Robert Le Rhea Cowan, of Smyrna, Tenn., officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. William Munford Ellis and the grand-daughter, through her mother, of the late John Archer Langhorne. Mr. Ellis married for the second time Miss Pearl Tyler, youngest daughter of the late John Tyler, of Sherwood Forest, on James River, and tenth President of the United States.

The house was decorated in evergreens, trailing vines and mountain laurel. Myriads of candles in quaint silver and brass holders furnished a beautiful illumination. The ceremony took place before an improvised altar, banked with flowers and lighted with white wax tapers. Miss Virginia Gay White rendered Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the bride's party advanced to the altar.

The bride came in with her father, who gave her away. She wore white chiffon, with a tulle veil and orange blossoms. Her flowers were bride roses and her ornaments, a necklace and bracelet of white pearls. The groom was attended by the Rev. David Woods, of Blacksburg, as his best man.

The six bridesmaids were the five sisters and first cousin of the bride—Misses Nannie Kent Ellis, Margaret Langhorne Ellis, Pearl Tyler Ellis, Lelia MacLachlan Ellis, Cornelia Howard Ellis and Mary Langhorne Cloyd. They were attired in dainty white lingerie frocks, with pink sashes and rose wreaths in their hair. They carried bouquets of maidenhair fern tied with white tulle. Miss Julia Fleuret Ellis, in white, assisted by Masters Cardiac Tyler Ellis, Munford Ellis and Francis Cloyd, held the ribbons, and Master Lion Alexander Ellis was ring-bearer, and carried the ring in a calla lily.

After the ceremony a reception was held for the relatives of the bride and groom, and a delicious and fashionable wedding supper was served. Mrs. William Munford Ellis led the way to the dining room, with her eldest son.

WHAT 50 CENTS' WORTH OF ELECTRICITY WILL DO.

Every one in Richmond, Manchester, Petersburg and the suburbs is constantly inquiring the cost of operating the various household utensils and other electrical devices. An expert electric lighting and heating engineer has figured out a few of the many things that electricity can do for the comfort and health, and what it costs. He based his estimates on 10 cents per kilowatt hour, which is the standard in the places named, and found out that 50 cents would:

Operate an electric fan three and one-half hours every day for thirty days.

Do two weeks' ironing with a six-pound iron for a good-sized family.

Do two weeks' sewing on a motor-driven sewing machine.

Light an ordinary lamp or stable with three sixteen-candle-power lamps, one hour every night, thirty nights.

With a small motor attached to the washing machine and wringer, wash 100 pounds of laundry in eight washings for a large family.

Light the porch light for three hours every night for two months.

Heat the electric heating pad three hours every night for thirty nights.

Grind 25 pounds of coffee, broil three steaks, broil twenty rarebits in an electric chafin dish, or fry 400 eggs. It will cost 2,000,000 bricks two stories high.

A one-horse-power motor will run seven hours, with full load, for 50 cents. The same sun will run the blower for 4 blacksmiths' forge one week.
